

Have a Passover question? Want to know some tips for shopping for less? Need links to some leading kashruth sites? We have it!

Passover for Less Tips: (Consult with your Rabbi):

- Coffee any plain, unflavored beans; grinder must be clean. Instant requires certification
- Any dishwashing soap
- Pure frozen concentrate orange juice- any
- Frozen fruit-acceptable if not sweetened or cooked, and contains no additives
- Raw Pecan halves or wholes are acceptable without Passover certification. Also, other raw nuts that are not blanched or roasted and free of bha/bht are also acceptable
- Kirkland and Trident salmon – OU (no special Passover certification necessary)
- Soaps – any
- Styrofoam - any
- Real lemon in bottle – OU (no special Passover certification necessary)
- Tea bags – any unflavored
- Bigelow, many varieties
- White sugar – any without additives, Brown sugar must have Passover certification
- Baking soda -all kosher without certification
- Extra virgin olive oil – all kosher without certification
- Cocoa –any 100% pure no additives such as Hershey's
- Quinoa – 2014 Passover Update

There are several brands of kosher for Passover quinoa this year including Setton Farms. Packages must be labeled Star-K/Kosher for Passover or OU-P.

Do it Yourself:

- Make your own Vanilla Sugar
- Make your own Noodles
- Make your own Strawberry Jam
- Make your own Almond Milk

- Read our Make "Your Own" for Passover feature for a complete list of the recipes including Preserved Lemons and Matzo Farfel

Links:

Here are some convenient links to the top kashruth sites for answers:

CRC Passover 2014 Guide:  CRC 2014 Passover Product Guide

OU Passover 2014 Guide: OU Kosher Passover Guide

Star-K Passover 2014 Guide: Star-K 2014 Passover Directory

Updated March 24, 2014